Good Friday Walking through the story
Preparation meeting

Monday 5th March, 7pm at Phoenix Farm Methodist Church

We need a team of people, the more the merrier, to tell the story, in six short stories, using simple scripts, so that we can walk through the Easter story telling it in a way that everyone can understand. The aim is to tell it using a narrator and people enacting the various characters. No acting skills required, just a sense of fun and a desire to share the Good news of Jesus in the simple way. Come along for our preparation meeting where you can see what's involved.

THE CLEWER INITIATIVE

WE SEE YOU

Would you know modern slavery if you saw it? If you, or your organisation is involved with social projects, such as food banks or night shelters, or working with vulnerable adults or children, it's possible that you have already come into contact with victims of modern slavery.

This workshop will explore what modern slavery is, how to recognise it, and how to respond. The workshop will also provide a chance to discuss how organisations can help in making our communities slavery-free.

If you're a local leader (of any faith or none), a volunteer, project worker or someone passionate about social justice, this free workshop is for you.

To be a pilgrim...

a weekend conference
open to all

6-8 April 2018, Cliff College

For more information and booking details
email: pilgrimage@methodistchurch.org.uk

- What does pilgrimage have to offer Christians and the Church today?
- What might be distinctive about Methodist pilgrimage?
- Does pilgrimage have to involve a journey?
- Can pilgrimage be mission?

These and lots of other questions will be explored through worship, workshops, discussion and learning. There will be a chance to explore the Cliff College grounds and surrounding countryside, as well as experience pilgrimage through sedentary activities.
